

Key Vocabulary

|               |                                                                                                       |
|---------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| language      | The system we use to talk to others.                                                                  |
| unkind        | Not being nice, saying hurtful things or doing hurtful things.                                        |
| signals       | Actions and facial expressions that we give off, often without realising it.                          |
| pretend       | To not really do something.                                                                           |
| trust         | To believe that someone will do the right thing for you and that they are a good friend.              |
| respect       | To accept people's differences and choices without being unkind.                                      |
| sign language | A method of communication used by deaf people which uses hand signals to represent letters and words. |

Key Facts

- Sign language is the fourth most used language in the UK.
- We can communicate with words, our face and the way we act.

Key Questions

- How can we show respect?
- How can we communicate with others?
- How might we communicate in difficult situations?
- Why is trust important?
- How many ways can we send messages?

Cross Curricular Learning

Townlands Christian Values

English - verbal communication

History - Morse code and its uses

PE - working together with respect

Learning Journey

Communication

Why is communication important and how to communicate in difficult or challenging situations.

Trust

Who we should trust and why we should be trusted.

Respecting others

Understanding what respect is and how we show respect to others.

Signaling and sign language

Learning about Morse Code and communicating without words.

Kind vs unkind

Explaining how bodies and feelings can be hurt with words

To discuss how people may feel if they are bullied

To understand what kind and unkind behaviour is.

Year 3

- Relationships with others
- Helping others to get help

EYFS

- Listening, attention and understanding.
- Speaking
- Building relationships